Biography

Jason Shapiro has been working in the intellectual property field since 1991, joining the Devlin Law Firm as a partner in 2023. Recognized as one of the world's top patent professionals in the Intellectual Asset Management (IAM) Patent 1000, Jason counsels clients on all aspects of intellectual property law with a special emphasis on patent litigation, post-grant proceedings, complex prosecution matters, non-infringement and invalidity opinions, and technology transactions, including intellectual property rights in government contracts.

Jason began his intellectual property career as a patent advisor to the Army Research Laboratory (ARL), during which time he also received patent examiner training at the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office. After law school, Jason worked as in-house patent counsel at Northrop Grumman Corporation and as a partner at IP boutiques in the Washington, DC area, where he was involved in patent litigation and prosecution, post-grant proceedings, noninfringement and invalidity opinion writing, and intellectual property transactions.

Prior to entering the legal profession, Jason worked as a researcher in the field of experimental hydrodynamics and as a project engineer building mechanical prototypes. His graduate research involved use of interferometric techniques in the field of experimental mechanics.

In his free time, Jason enjoys spending time with family and friends, biking, hiking, and playing guitar.
